

South Suburban
PARKS AND RECREATION

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 25, 2014

Contact: Jamie DeBartolomeis

303-483-7016

New Restroom to Benefit Mary Carter Greenway Trail Users

Opens for Business

Thanks to South Suburban Parks and Recreation and the City of Littleton, runners, walkers and cyclists who use the Mary Carter Greenway Trail now have a place to go, when they have to go. The brand new Mary Carter Greenway Restroom sits just feet off the trail, and is located north of Bowles Ave., in Littleton. It officially opened last weekend and is available to the public.

The restroom was primarily built for trail users; however, it can also be accessed by golfers from the adjacent Littleton Golf Course. The restroom building features flush toilets, sinks, a drinking fountain and shelter with two picnic tables. A lightning protection system was also installed to give trail users and golfers safe refuge during a thunder storm. The building replaces a former port-o-let, and offers much improved amenities and comfort.

The project was equally funded by the City of Littleton (48%) and South Suburban Parks and Recreation (48%) and Littleton resident Jim Taylor (4%). The contractor was RMA Group, Inc., of Denver.

###

Photo Caption:

Representatives from South Suburban Parks and Recreation and the City of Littleton officially dedicate the new Mary Carter Greenway Restroom on April 23. From left to right: SSPRD Board of Directors: Mike Anderson, Sue Rosser, Board Chair John Ostermiller and Pam Eller; Jim Taylor, local citizen who contributed $10,000 toward the construction of the facility; and Littleton City Council Members: Jerry Valdes, Randy Stein, Bruce Stahlman and Mayor Phil Cernanec. (photo courtesy of Jamie DeBartolomeis, South Suburban Parks and Recreation)